Robert Kew

Director of Technology, British Chamber of Commerce Dubai; Founder & CEO, Kew Solutions; Board Member, The Sparkle Foundation

CTW Global is inspiring, packed with leaders and guests. This year highlights digital transformation, sustainability, AI, and logistics, aligning with the UAE's Net Zero 2050 vision. Being together enables collaboration: sharing knowledge, forging strategies, and building the future side by side.

Jessica Panigari

Founder & CEO, GOODS2LOAD

It's wonderful to be among many leaders, two days will be electric. Logistics is the trendsetter, with AI and technology advancing while relationships stay human. Networking fuels business. As expectations shift, we must adapt. I can't wait to return next year.

Hamdi A. Osman

Founder & CEO, SolitAir Cargo Airline

CTW Global truly connects the Global South. With leaders and experts across industries, we tackle logistics' future, IT, digitalization, customer experience, and CRM. As a daily cargo airline, we see it firsthand: today's customer asks how fast, not how much anymore.

Umer Saleem

Vice President, Sales & Business Development, MENA, HWA Robotics

After 16 years in robotics, CTW Global is the best platform to showcase solutions. Peers and partners shared global experience. We travel to three or four events monthly, proof visibility matters: branding, smart marketing, wider awareness.

Justin Sloan

Chief Freight Forwarding Division, Naqel Express

CTW Global is energizing. Being surrounded by strong voices drives growth. Listening and sharing matter. Collaboration is essential, put the right people in the room to hear the right ideas. Digital is powerful, but success demands people and technology working together

Shawn Meyers

Middle East Masterplanning Director | Associate, DLR Group Middle East

I was impressed by how focused and actionable the content was. The sessions went beyond theory into real steps we can apply right away, and the networking connected me with peers facing the same challenges. I'd recommend this event to anyone serious about moving faster and smarter.

Kristian Stinson

Founder and Managing Director - Finch

This event was exceptionally well-curated, with practical sessions, insightful speakers, and seamless organization. I left with concrete steps we can apply next week, plus valuable connections across the community. I'd recommend it to peers looking for relevance, speed, and impact.

Monzon Gao

Representative, FUJIAN STAR-NET COMMUNICATIONS CO., LTD.

STAR-NET is a leading China-based IT solutions provider. We now deliver smart user solutions across the Middle East and seek partners—distributors and system integrators—to expand together. Delighted to join CTW and exhibitions. CTW is outstanding; thank you for the opportunity.

Louise Collins

Partner, Focal Middle East

Thank you for having me. I loved today's diverse panel—urbanists to material suppliers—united in responsibility for sustainability. Community-led thinking clearly fuels innovation; even 3D sand is emerging here. The Middle East is trailblazing and exporting sustainable ideas to the world.

Rasha Al-Tekreeti

Founder & Creative Director - Waru

The event delivered actionable content our community needed—human-centered discovery, early alignment on decision paths, and a co-design mindset that builds trust. Attendees left confident about turning strong pitches into long-term partnerships.

Mehmet Aktash

Managing Director- Bishop Design

This event was inspiring and practical. The speaker showed how to celebrate what makes us different, nurture creativity, then channel it with disciplined control. Anchored in authenticity, this framework helps build experiences and a brand clients recognize, trust, and recommend.

Maya Cochrane

RIBA Chartered Architect & Health-Centered Design Expert, Maya Material

This event spotlighted how great design brands are built by celebrating what makes you different, your people, craft, and the excitement behind the work. Most valuable was the reminder for emerging designers to stay authentic and keep nurturing ideas recognition follows. I left with a practical, inspiring framework we can apply immediately.
